More Taxes, Increased Postage Expected To Offset Pay Raise

By DONALD FINLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon will ask Congress to put on a "pay as you go" basis his agreed upon 6 per cent raise for all federal employees and military personnel. An additional 8 per cent raise promised the mailmen will be tied to a post office reorganization.

Nixon's request, which was being sent to Capitol Hill today, probably will mean more taxes and increased postage rates for Americans to cover the $2.5 billion annual cost of the pay raises.

The administration and postal union negotiators' agreement Thursday ended a dispute that launched the nation's first postal strike March 18.

Details of the President's financing plan were not released Thursday, but John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's domestic affairs counselor, said it could involve increased taxes and postage rates. But he specifically ruled out any extension of the income tax surcharge. "The pay increases will be essentially noninflationary in that they will be accompanied by a pay-as-you-go message to Congress," Ehrlichman told newsmen at the White House. The agreement reached between the government and seven postal unions following seven days of bargaining called for them to begin negotiations immediately on reorganization of the Post Office Department that will be coupled with the 6 per cent pay boost for mailmen and a reduction from 21 to 8 years the time required for mailmen to reach top pay scale. Mailmen now begin at

Music Festival Underway Today

About 2,000 students from 11 schools in West Kentucky are expected to be on the Murray State University campus to participate in the second part of the Regional Music Festival today and Saturday.

Events scheduled for the two-day session include bands, orchestras and vocal solos and ensembles. Schools represented will be Murray High, Calloway County, North Marshall, South Marshall, Reidland, Lone Oak, Heath, Paducah Tighman, Fulton City and Trigg County.

Under the direction of Richard W. Farrell, chairman of the music department at Murray State and president of the Kentucky Music Educators Association, the event is part of a statewide program sponsored by the association.

Bands and orchestras will begin performing at 5 p. m. in the University School auditorium April 3 and resume at 8:30 a. m. April 4 in the same location. Vocal solos and ensembles are scheduled to begin at 8:30 a. m. April 4 in the University School cafeteria.

Farrell said the public is invited to attend the performance.

Organizations and individuals are rated by a judging panel of music educators as superior, excellent, good, fair or poor.

Choral groups and instrumental solos and ensembles from 16 high school and junior high schools participated in the first part of the festival on the campus March 28.

They included Murray, Mayfield, North Marshall, South Marshall, Fulton City, Lyon County, Livingston County, Paducah Tighman, Murray University School, Lone Oak, Trigg County, Symsonia, Heath, Reidland, Brazelton and Jetton.

Pfc. Ronald G. Reavis Now Serving in Vietnam

Pfc. Ronald G. Reavis, Private First Class Ronald Gene Reavis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reavis of Dexter, is now serving his overseas duties with the United States Army in Vietnam.

He is with the 101st ABN Division (Airmobile) and left for Vietnam on February 26 of this year.

Reavis entered the Army on April 15, 1969, took his basic training at Fort Campbell and his advanced training at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

The soldier attended Calloway County High School and was employed by Garland Used Cars, Murray, before entering the service.

Pfc. Reavis' wife, the former Donna Holt, is residing with her mother in Waverly, Tenn., at the present time.

Harold Hurt, Red Cross Fund Campaign Chairman for 1970 announced today collections have fallen far short of the $9,000 goal set for this year's drive. As of April 1 only $4,231.29 have been received in contributions.

Dr. Carl Hussing MSU campaign chairman stated approximately $1100 has been received from the University with other groups still to be heard from.

Campaign workers are still making contacts for contributions and Hurt emphasized it is not too late to send in donations.

Many of the services offered by the Red Cross will have to be severely cut back or dropped altogether unless sufficient funds are made available, a spokesman said. Some of these services will include the Water Safety program, Nursing, Youth, and Blood Programs. Two of the agencies—the 24 hour military service emergency service and aid to disaster victims—cannot be dropped.

At a time when President Nixon is seeking to inspire Americans with the spirit of volunteerism to help attack our social problems, the Red Cross and its experience stands as one prime resource for this campaign, the spokesman said. "It serves all America and all

Lusanne Lilly Is Inducted Into Honor Society at Vanderbilt

Lusanne Lilly

Lusanne Lilly of Murray, a 1966 honor graduate of Murray State University, was one of nine senior medical students at the Vanderbilt School of Medicine inducted into the Tennessee Alpha chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha national medical honor society March 26.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lilly of 500 S. 18th St., Miss Lilly was officially inducted at the annual society banquet following an address by Dr. Charles Huggins of the University of Chicago School of Medicine.

Chartered in 1923, the Tennessee Alpha Chapter at Vanderbilt elects members on the basis of scholarship, character and originality—with not more than one-sixth of the students in the senior class eligible for membership.

Purposes of the society are listed as the development of high standards of personal conduct and scholarship and the encouragement of medical research.

A summa cum laude graduate at Murray State in her pre-medical work, Miss Lilly was selected as the outstanding woman student and the outstanding

Revival Services At Kirksey Are Planned

Revival services will be held at the Kirksey Baptist Church starting Monday, April 6, and continuing through Sunday, April 12.

Rev. C. C. Brasher, pastor of the New Zion Baptist Church in Marshall County, will be the evangelist. He is a brother of the Kirksey pastor, Rev. David Brasher.

The song leader is W. A. Erwin. The nursery will be open for the services to be held each evening at 7:30 p. m.

The church invites the public to attend the services.

Kentucky DECA Sweetheart

Miss Mary Lee Brownfield, a junior from Murray High School, was crowned DECA Sweetheart for the State of Kentucky at the state Leadership Conference of Distributive Education Clubs of America. The conference is now meeting in Lexington, Kentucky. Miss Brownfield competed with girls representing DECA Clubs from all over the state. She will later represent Kentucky at the National DECA Leadership Conference in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brownfield of Route 7, Murray. Sponsor of the Murray High organization is Mr. Robert Newcomb.

Candy Strippers Set Meeting For Tuesday

Miss Wende Flood, Chairman of the Candy Strippers, announced today that a meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 7 at 3:30 of all girls, age 14 or over who wish to become Candy Strippers.

The meeting will be held in the conference room of the Convalescent Division of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Candy Strippers are girls who do volunteer work at the hospital and convalescent division. They work in many areas including the dietary department, working on the floors with nurses, the admitting office, central supply, take reading material and trays of food to patients.

They are Wanda Billington, Kathy Lockhart, Dale Guthrie, Tommy Lassiter, Marilyn Lassiter, Glenda Pace, Beverly Paschall, Esabelle Ray, Becky Robertson, and Becky Tarry.

Under the direction of Leonard Jenkins, a junior voice major from Mt. Vernon, Ill., the choir is also scheduled to appear in Baptist church in Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn.; Orio Vista and Orlando, Fla.; Unadilla and Cartersville, Ga., before returning to Murray April 19.

Accompanist for the group is Sue Ellen Wilson, a piano major from Clay.

Tryouts Scheduled For Colt League Baseball Program On Saturday

Tryouts for the Colt League for the summer baseball program will be held at the Colt League field in the Murray City Park on Saturday, April 4, from two to three p. m.

Any boy born on or between August 1, 1953, and July 31, 1955, is eligible to play in Colt League in 1970, according to Ronald Crouch, president, and James Thompson, vice-president.

A registration blank for interested boys and their parents to complete is published on another page of the Ledger & Times.

Cars Collide Headon On 641 South

Miss Judy Garland of 519 South 13th Street, Murray, was admitted to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital this morning after being injured in a tow car accident on U. S. Highway 641 South just north of Paschall's Truck Lines terminal.

The Murray girl, age 17, suffered lacerations to the left eye and a broken foot, according to officials at the hospital. She was brought to the hospital by a J. H. Churchill Funeral Home ambulance.

Also injured in the accident was Charles Timmy Scruggs, age 18, of Hazel. He was treated for a contusion and abrasion to the left cheek. He was brought to the hospital by a Black-Coleman Funeral Home ambulance.

Kentucky State Trooper J. C. Barnett investigated the accident which occurred about 7:10 this morning.

Scruggs was driving a 1968 GTO Pontiac, going north on 641, and Miss Garland was driving a 1963 Chevrolet II going south on 641.

Trooper Barnett said the cars collided headon and the GTO was stopped on the east side of the road and the Chevrolet in the south bound lane of traffic. Miss Garland was partially thrown out of her car after the accident.

The cars were almost demolished, according to Trooper Barnett. The Chevrolet was towed in by the Parker Ford wrecker and the Scruggs car was still at the scene of the accident at 10:30 this morning.

These two cars collided headon this morning on 641 South just north of Paschall Trucks Lines. The 1968 GTO Pontiac (top) was driven by Charles T. Scruggs, 18, of Hazel, and the 1963 Chevy II was driven by Miss Judy Garland of 519 S. 13th Street, Murray.

Joe Rose Speaks To Kiwanis Club

Three Latin American cultures, the Inca, Maya and Aztec, were discussed by Joe Rose at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club last night at Murray Woman's Clubhouse.

"The Mayas were the earliest of these civilizations and they were also probably the most advanced," Rose said. "They were seafarers and many of the food plants that we now use were developed by them. Examples of these are the Irish potato, the sweet potato, the tomato, the strawberry and many of the beans, corn and peppers."

"The Incas developed a calendar and there is evidence that they used the zero," Rose went on. "The Aztecs were noted for the aqueducts that they built which were superior to the ones the Romans built. They had a city of 90,000 people at a time when London had a population of 40,000."

President Tom Turner presided at the meeting and at the board meeting which followed. Harold Eversmeyer had his brother as his guest.

A horse show will be held in conjunction with the County Fair this year if at all possible, according to members of the County Fair Board.

The census tabulation in Calloway County has been slowed down due to the rain, James Lassiter said today.

"A group standing around a big catfish hanging out in front of Laverne Wallis' grocery store, looked to weigh around 25 to 30 pounds," from the column, "Seen & Heard Around Murray."

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stewart will observe their 50 wedding anniversary April 9 at their home near Old Salem.

Stamps get an elephant

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Now you can get an elephant with trading stamps.

At least, the Norfolk City Zoo has done so in a campaign sponsored by the Virginia Zoological and Aquarium Society to collect donations of stamps to acquire a baby elephant for the zoo.

A group savings project was authorized by a stamp distributor (Sperry and Hutchinson) with a goal of approximately 2,000 filled stamp books required for "purchase" of the pachyderm and its transportation to Norfolk.

A market chain placed collection boxes in 37 of its stores in the state. School groups and civic organizations cooperated in solicitation of the trading stamps.

The Norfolk Zoo now is considering community stamp collecting campaigns to acquire other animals, including a rhino, a hippo, a giraffe and a tapir to house in a new mammal building.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Case of the Outstretched Arm

Bookkeeper Jenkins, arriving at his place of employment one wintry morning, reached out for the knob on the front door. Unfortunately, the sidewalk on which he was standing was slick with ice. His foot slipped and down he went, suffering painful injuries.

Could he collect workmen's compensation?

Was this an "on-the-job" accident? Jenkins argued that it was, because his outstretched arm had been across the property line, over the company's property, at the moment he slipped.

However, the court denied his claim, noting that his feet had still been on the public sidewalk. The judge pointed out that it was his foot, not his arm, that did the slipping.

This case, although a close one, illustrates a common principle of almost all workmen's compensation laws. An employee is generally covered only while he is on the company's premises. Off the premises, he is on his own. Nevertheless, there are important exceptions. A workman may be covered off the premises too, if he is still somewhat under the company's "sphere of influence."

Thus, an employee who was hit by a car while on his way to lunch was held entitled to compensation, when it appeared that his lunch hour was paid for by the company. Under these circumstances, the court found him to be sufficiently "on the job" to be protected.

By the same token, in another icy sidewalk case, the victim did collect compensation because of two extra factors in the situation. First, the sidewalk was used almost exclusively by company employees. Second, the company was supposed to keep it free of ice.

These factors, said the court, brought the sidewalk area within the scope of the job, justifying protection for workmen who were injured there.

As one judge put it: "A workmen's compensation law, because of its humanitarianism, should be interpreted liberally in harmony with its purpose to protect injured workmen and their dependents."

On Saturday, April 4, the Dixie-Land Open Contest will take place and this is open to any contestant from any state and does not require membership in the United States Twirling Association, however, if they want to join on that day they would be a portion of their contest entry fee returned to them for each event that they enter.

The competition in the Dixie-Land Contest will be in the same age groups but will be broken up into classes for Beginners, Intermediates and Advanced students. It also will have the following categories for other competition: Duets, Beginner, Intermediate and Advanced Two-Baton, Small Teams, Large Teams, Dance Twirl Solo, Dance Twirl Duets and Dance Twirl Teams.

Saturday night will bring to the climax a weekend of twirling when the Kentucky State Champions are announced from the results of the Friday contest. Also during the evening the winners of each age group will participate in the Twirl-offs and Strutting-offs for the Divisional and Grand Champions of the Dixie-Land Contest. The finale of Saturday night is the crowning of Miss Dixie-Land, who is chosen as the girl who has compiled the most points in Saturday competition only. Her Royal Court is chosen by judges in age groups at the beginning of Saturday's contest and are crowned at the same time.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing or phoning Mrs. Jane Wall, Contest Director 502 Henderson Drive, Hopkinsville, Kentucky 42240, Area Code 502 886 1811. Deadline for entry blanks is April 8.

Shower shampoo

NEW YORK (UPI)—Beauty experts suggest shampooing the hair at least once a week. The under-the-shower technique is a favorite way, since it's easy, quick, and provides an ideal means of rinsing. Work up two rich lathers, rinsing between and massage the scalp vigorously with fingertips or knuckles.

SENSING THE NEWS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

FOR EQUAL JUSTICE

BEHIND THE BOMBINGS

The wave of bombings in the United States in recent weeks is ominous evidence of the spread of Leftist terrorism in this once peaceful country. The explosions also point to the result of excessive toleration of radical elements that threaten to tear down "The Establishment" and wreck American society.

There's significance in the various explosions. Near Bel Air, Maryland, two prominent "civil rights" workers lost their lives when a bomb they were apparently transporting blew up in their automobile. Later a bomb blasted a hole in a Maryland courthouse where H. Rap Brown, black militant, was scheduled to go on trial.

In New York City, an organization that calls itself Revolutionary Force 9 claimed credit for bombings of the Manhattan offices of Mobil Oil Co., International Business Machines Corp., and General Electric & Electronics Corp. Elsewhere in the nation there were similar incidents. A shopping mall in Pittsburgh was bombed and Lawrence University in Wisconsin was the target of an arson attack.

Americans really shouldn't be surprised that the radical movement has come to the point of terrorist attacks on businesses, public buildings and educational institutions. The New Left movement has been heading in this direction for several years. In fact, the origins of the current terrorism can be traced to the radical sit-in campaigns of the late 1950s.

The black militant who died in the Maryland explosion, while active in the voter-registration drive in Mississippi in 1964. When informed citizens warned that year that the persons invading Southern communities included hard-core radicals the evidence was rejected out of hand by Liberal commentators and politicians.

In 1967, a radical action group paralyzed the Morningside Heights campus of Columbia University in New York. Again, the Liberals refused to acknowledge the evidence was rejected out of hand by Liberal commentators and politicians.

In 1967, a radical action group paralyzed the Morningside Heights campus of Columbia University in New York. Again, the Liberals refused to acknowledge the evidence was rejected out of hand by Liberal commentators and politicians.

On March 6th a series of dynamite explosions wrecked a $275,000 townhouse in New York City. The house was being used as a bomb factory by young radicals who belong to the Students for a Democratic Society, the organization that led the strike at Columbia University. In the ruins of the house was found the mangled body of Theodore Gold, 23-year-old SDS member. It is noteworthy that Gold in 1967 was vice-chairman of the SDS chapter at Columbia and, as such, played a leading role in the campus disturbances.

The step from violent words to violent actions is a very short one. For almost a decade, there has been preaching of "revolution" in America. The late Martin Luther King and the late Robert Kennedy both frequently used the word "revolution" in relation to social and economic changes in the United States. These were inflammatory uses, and the nation is now reaping a harvest of terror.

transporting an explosive

It has been impossible in recent years to pick up a Liberal magazine without reading about "revolution" in a favorable context. The word has become the stock in trade of many Liberal writers, commentators and politicians. Liberal university administrators have tolerated revolutionaries on campus and excused their words and behavior. Not long ago, armed revolutionaries held the president of Cornell University at gunpoint, and little was done to rebuke the extremist elements. Other revolutionaries forcibly seized the dean of Harvard University, and only a mild punishment was administered to the offenders.

Some church groups also bear responsibility for the incitement of revolutionaries. Recently, for example, the Executive Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church gave a grant of $40,000 to the Alianza Federal de Mercedes, a revolutionary organization in New Mexico that has engaged in armed insurrectionary conflict against state and federal authorities. The money was given over the objections of the bishop of the diocese and lay groups. The National Council of Churches has been an advocate of "revolution."

The likelihood is that terrorism, including bomb throwing, will increase until the American people rise up and reject the Liberals who urge toleration of insurrectionists that threaten to topple the United States. Every financial grant to a radical group — every word of praise for "revolution" — leads to the spread of anarchy and a campaign of death and destruction in the United States.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1860 the Pony Express began its postal service when riders left St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif. at the same time.

In 1865 the Union army occupied Richmond, Va., which had been the capital of the Confederacy.

In 1948 the U.S. allocated $5.3 billion to 16 countries under the European Recovery Program. In 1962 the federal government ordered New Orleans to integrate the first six grades of its public schools.

A thought for the day—American author Washington Irving said, "There is in every true woman's heart a spark of heavenly fire, which lies dormant in the broad daylight of prosperity; but which kindles up, and beams and blazes in the dark hour of adversity."

Poetically Speaking

BY TOM PERKINS

This column makes its debut today on the basic premise that many people like to write poetry but for some reason or other never get any of their work in print.

If you are a professional poet, then this is not for you. If you are just an average person who seems to have the peculiar ability to set down thoughts and emotions in poetic form, then this is for you.

Today's column will contain some of my own efforts and the editor has given me the responsibility of editing any contributions which might be sent in for consideration.

Naturally, shorter poems will receive priority because we are limited in space to just these two columns. Any poems submitted should be copies of your originals since no poems can be returned.

After a column or two, perhaps we can devise some regulations which we can all follow to prevent any unnecessary correspondence or postage.

If you have any poems you wish to submit for consideration for publication, mail them to the Ledger and Times, Poem Editor, 103 North Fourth Street, Murray, Kentucky.

This column is for amateur poets and its primary purpose is to provide an outlet for these poets so they can see their poems in print. The name and address of the poet will be placed at the end of his or her contribution.

Please type and double space all contributions and use capitals only where you want them.

Groundhogs Of Calloway County

Brown nose poking out a round hole
Fur and eyes and teeth and claws
Gentleness and heart and courage
Round plump body and ferociousness
Digging and hiding so folks don't see
Arms and legs and half hearted tail
Red hair, light skin, scars and victory
Mouth, long teeth, chewing and grass
Chewing, swallowing and rumbling belly
Clover, weeds and beans and trouble
Keen eyes, whistling, sliding and hiding
Spring, pappy and mammy and younguns
Rolling and play and sliding and hiding
No school and don't miss it
Sleep late and get up at ten
Go back to bed and sleep till you get ready
Run and play and jump and eat hard corn
Dogs and cats are bad, mothers are good
Don't wash behind the ears or hands
Play in the dirt just like daddy
Foxes are bad and look like dogs
But don't bark and sneak up and jump
Stay near hole, legs are short
And little boys carry sticks and run
And big boys carry guns and don't Nose and ears, alert and ready
Claws and legs and short and steady
Fight and bite not flesh but dirt
Dig and pack and rest and work
See me coming and jump and hide
And poke your nose out and take a snit
And see if I'm going to get ya
There was a time I would
When I carried a club long and hard
And wore beads around my neck and dirt
And I grunted a lot with no language
But I was understood alright
When I swung my club in Calloway County
Eat and work and sun and run
Bite and chew and clip and stubble
Clover and weeds and beans and trouble
Don't pile that dirt so high, ya hear
Folks might think there's a worm at work in Calloway County.

Calloway County Weather (Change the weather)

Clouds gather with no pattern
Patches of blue, here and there
Winds move, push and gather
Sun hidden, promise seen
Warm there, trying to push through
Clouds thick, strong, hiding
Men worry, wish for change
Weather patterns, hard to change
Pressing hard, machines invented
Creatures mastered — hope — weather
People different — tall — little
Machines fail — smile does better.

Knickerbockers Drop Bullets 101-80 In East Division

A sign above the locker in the New York Knickerbocker dressing room says: "There's a little meanness in everybody."

Reed had been a patsy against the Baltimore Bullets' Wes Unseld as the Knicks dropped two straight games, but Thursday night he made up for it with sheer meanness, pulling down a club record 36 rebounds and scoring 36 points to lead New York to a 101-80 victory. And he did it all on a bad knee, too.

The victory gave the Knicks a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinals.

The Phoenix Suns, led by Gall Goodrich's 29 points and Connie Hawkins' playmaking, came from seven points down midway in the third quarter to defeat the Los Angeles Lakers, 112-98, and take a 2-1 edge in Western Division semifinals of the National Basketball Association.

Unseld wound up with 15 rebounds and only 10 points, and even Baltimore coach Gene Shue admitted that Reed had won that round in the personal feud between the rival centers. "Reed was sensational," Shue said. "He just can't be better than he was tonight. It has to be one of the best games he's ever played."

Walt Frazier, who had the task of playing opposite Earl Monroe, finished with 16 points and 16 rebounds and Bradley had 14 points.

The Knicks finished with a club playoff record of 87 rebounds, and Reed's total surpassed the 33 that Harry Gallatin once pulled down for the club. Baltimore got only 50 rebounds.

The Suns also depended on backboard strength, outrebounding Los Angeles, 57-32. They held a 15-9 edge on the boards in the third quarter as they moved into the lead to stay with nine consecutive points. By the start of the fourth period, Phoenix had increased its bulge to 77-71.

Los Angeles' big men, Wilt Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor, got 11 and 18 points respectively, but Jerry West added 31. Brad Siltas was the No. 2 scorer for the Suns with 21 points, and Hawkins got 10 rebounds, nine assists and 19 points.

Five Teams Fighting For Stanley Cup

By United Press International

It all comes down to the final weekend in the East Division of the National Hockey League.

Only one of six teams, the Toronto Maple Leafs, is a spectator as the other five fight for position and a berth in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Detroit Red Wings clipped Toronto, 4-2, Thursday night to climb over the idle Montreal Canadiens into third place, but the Wings have only a one-point margin over Montreal and three points over New York, with their final two games home and home against the Rangers Saturday and Sunday.

The Wings can look back to the Rangers, in fifth place and three points back, or up to the Boston Bruins and the Chicago Black Hawks, tied for first but only two points ahead of them. With Alex Delvecchio leading the way, Detroit lost no time in taking control of Toronto. The veteran center scored after only 16 seconds of play, notching his 20th goal of the season, the 11th time he has reached the 20 mark in 19 NHL seasons.

Delvecchio also picked up two assists, one on Gordie Howe's 28th marker of the season, the other on Frank Mahovlich's 37th, both in the second period. The other Wing goal was scored by defenseman Gary Bergman in the first period.

Toronto didn't get on the board until Norm Ullman's tally at 6:39 of the second period. Bob Pulford got the other marker for the Leafs at 4:07 of the third.

The St. Louis Blues, who have clinched the division title in the West, defeated the Philadelphia Flyers, 1-0, in the only other game scheduled. Jim Roberts got the unassisted goal while the Flyers were short handed in the first period.

SAUER SIGNS

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Sauer, one of the top receivers in the National Football League's American Conference, Thursday signed a multi-year contract with the New York Jets.

Sauer, 26, has averaged 62 catches per season during his five-year career with the Jets.

Lefty slugger

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The late Frank (Lefty) O'Doul hit .398 for the 1929 Philadelphia Phillies and .368 for the 1932 Brooklyn Dodgers. O'Doul, who spent seven years as a pitcher before turning to the outfield, had a lifetime batting average of .349.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's a guy who's gonna do it the hard way. Without any spring training at all.

It doesn't matter. Maxie Patkin's in shape for another season. He's not at all nervous either. What for? He has set records and he has heard the cheers.

If you care to get technical about it, Patkin has played in more cities and ballparks than guys like Hoyt Wilhelm, George Brunet, Pedro Ramos, Leon Wagner and Dick Schofield and the next time he suits up it'll be for his 25th straight season.

"What pension?" he says, giving you that classic rubber-faced expression of his. "Nobody ever heard of a pension for a clown. Are you kidding?"

Max Patkin began clowning as a kid growing up in Philadelphia and has never really stopped. He pitched six years in the minors and then sort of drifted into the business of being a baseball clown when he came up with an arm that wouldn't work anymore 18 years ago with Wilkes-Barre of the Eastern League.

"I don't wanna sound self-centered, but I think when I quit that will be the end of all baseball clowns," says the 50-year-old Patkin. "Baseball players are pretty serious today. They have no time to fool around. The only guy I've seen who's remotely funny is John Boozar, the pitcher. I haven't seen anybody else."

Patkin's first stop this season will be at Busch Stadium in St. Louis on the 25th of this month after which he'll head for the bushes and sometimes the bonodocks behind the bushes.

"I go to places that even the scouts don't go," laughs Maxie, who has entertained baseball fans in practically every state of the Union with his zany, rick-tickling performances. "Some of the places I go nobody ever heard of but I play bigger cities, too. Last year I did my act in Albuquerque, Tulsa, Salt Lake City, Ogden and El Paso all within one week and drew a total of 26,000."

High point of Patkin's travels last year came at Spokane where Elton Schiller, the general manager of the club, had the game halted temporarily in the seventh inning so Maxie could be presented with a plaque in recognition for the enjoyment he provided fans in the Northwest through the years.

It was the first time Patkin ever was honored. What did he do? What do clowns always do? He cried.

Water Skis Needed At Greensboro

By STUART GORIN

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—Now they're calling it the "Greater Greensboro Golf and Water Skiing Open."

Water skis would be about the best way to get around the Sedgefield Country Club course after the heavy rains that washed away the opening round of the GGO Thursday—and the pro-am event Wednesday.

The 144-man field tries again today to start the $180,000 tournament over the waterlogged 7,034-yard par-71 course. Thursday's round began on time at 8 a.m. EST and half the field had teed off before the heavy rain fell. Winds added to the weather woes, knocking down the two scoreboards.

"I'm glad they called it off," said Bobby Mitchell, who had completed eight holes. "Phil Rodgers said he had gotten to the fifth hole and quipped 'It was dry from No. 5 back on into the clubhouse.'"

Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer will interrupt their play to have dinner with President Nixon at the White House Saturday night. They plan to leave Greensboro after Saturday's morning round, and return immediately after the dinner.

Divorce Seems To Agree With Milwaukee Brewers

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Divorce, American League style, seems to agree with the Milwaukee Brewers.

Maybe it's the change in name. Maybe it's simply that the hassle over permanent roots are over. Whatever the case, the Milwaukee Brewers, nee the Seattle Pilots, started life anew Wednesday on a winning note.

Danny Walton, a .217 hitter in 23 major league games last season, had a perfect day by way of celebration and helped clobber the Cleveland Indians, 9-4, with a homer, three singles, a walk and five RBI's. Walton's three-run homer in the first inning was the telling blow.

Scores in Ninth Inning
Al Kaline's bases-loaded blast in the ninth inning gave the Detroit Tigers a 6-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Reliever Sparky Lyle set the stage by walking three batters. Norm Cash also homered for the Tigers.

Tony Perez capped a nine-run, sixth inning with a homer that carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 14-9 triumph over the Washington Senators. Al Unser collected four hits for the Senators as they tagged Ray Washburn for seven runs and reliever Bo Belinsky for two more tallies.

San Francisco shook off the disaster of a nine-game, six-loss Japanese tour with a 4-3 win over California. Dick Dietz knocked in the winning run with a 10th-inning double.

The Kansas City Royals edged the New York Yankees, 4-3, on an unearned run in the sixth inning. Jackie Hernandez scored the winning rally.

Mets Win On Error
An error by outfielder Leron Lee on Cleon Jones' single enabled Bud Harrelson and Wayne Garrett to score two unearned runs in the third inning as the New York Mets edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2.

Houston scored all its runs in the fourth inning to beat Baltimore 4-2. Tom Griffin pitched five scoreless innings for the Astros before the Orioles got to reliever Fred Gladding for two runs in the sixth.

It was roster trimming time, and Pittsburgh trimmed down to the opening day limit by returning outfielder Ron Davis and catcher Gary Kolb to Columbus of the International League and optioning infielder Dave Cash to the same club.

"Salute To Fashion" Theme Of Style Show Presented By M.H.S. Chapter

"Salute To Fashion" was the theme of the eleventh annual style show held by the Murray High School Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America on Monday, March 30, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

An overflow crowd was present for the show featuring one hundred and seventeen home economics girls modeling garments they had constructed in the home economics classes of Mrs. G. T. Lilly and Mrs. A. B. Crass.

Fred Schultz, superintendent of Murray City Schools, welcomed the guests. A special musical number was by Susan Hale, guitar, Jennie Barker, and Tim McKee.

The narrators for the show were Mrs. John Belt and Mrs. Robert Brown who were in a booth on the stage. They wore flowers fashioned in the form of judges' corsages.

On the stage was a sign, "Salute To Fashion", on a backdrop decorated in red, white, and blue. Adorning the stage was a replica of the Statue of Liberty with buildings with cut out windows and small lights.

A sign over the door was "FHA Welcomes You To Salute To Fashion".

The ushers, Gay Crass, Debbie Landolt, Jane Rose, Selwyn Schultz, Valerie Spencer, and Krista Kennedy, wore corsages like those of the narrators. Piano accompanists were Misses Judy Adams and Suzanne Jones.

Mrs. G. T. Lilly and Mrs. A. B. Crass, teachers, were presented white orchid corsages by the FHA girls.

Girls in Home Economics I classes modeled simple-to-make dresses, Home Economics II classes modeled sportswear, and Home Economics III modeled suits and coats.

The style show committee was composed of Beth Tuck, Denise Grogan, Mary Lee Brownfield, Paula Cook, Karen Kennedy, Cathy Geurin, Leah Fulton, Jan Clark, Rachel Flora, Anne Cooper, Becky Wilson, Marsha Hendon, and Melia Lancaster.

Following the style show Mrs. Crass invited the FHA and home economics girls to the luncheon for punch and cake. The cake was decorated in red, white and blue with a flag and the words, "Salute To Fashion".

Miss Martha Dell Finney Becomes Bride Of Steve M. Andrus In Candlelight Ceremony At The First Baptist Church

Mrs. Steve M. Andrus

Amidst a lovely setting of flowers and candelabra in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Murray, Miss Martha Dell Finney was married to Steve M. Andrus.

Dr. H. C. Chiles performed the double ring ceremony at seven o'clock in the evening on Saturday, February 14.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ted Conner of Hopkinsville and Ralph Finney of Murray. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carnie Andrus, 1303 Sycamore Street, Murray.

The ceremony was read as the couple stood beneath the white wrought iron arch entwined with flowers flanked by baskets of pink chrysanthemums and white gladioli. Palms and the branched candelabra were used to enhance the wedding scene. The baptistry was adorned with a basket of chrysanthemums and gladioli. The family pews were marked with ribbon bows and greenery.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John Bowker, organist, and Mrs. Vernon Shown, vocalist. Selections by Mrs. Shown were "Because", "One Hand One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Bowker played several selections and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and the recessional.

Bride's Dress
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length wedding gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. It was fashioned A-line style with a princess neckline and long sleeves. A long floor length train was attached to the back of the dress. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to headpiece of self material flowers with pearls attached to the mock leaves.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Vickie Crawford was the maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of blue brocade fashioned empire style with a dark blue velvet ribbon around the empire waistline. Her headpiece was a dark blue velvet bow with veil attached. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Theresa Resig, Miss Connie Casity, and Mrs. Jo Averitt of Hopkinsville. They wore Victorian style dresses of baby pink crepe and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Miss Jaina Washer, niece of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid. She wore a long pink dress and pink carnations were also used in her bouquet. The flower girls, Miss Jann Washer, niece of the groom, and Miss Denecia Story, wore short blue empire style dresses and carried baskets filled with pink rose petals.

Donnie Cohoon served as best man for Mr. Andrus. The groomsmen were Duane Lowry, Paul Butterworth, Jr., and Edgar Howe, Jr. of Lexington.

The ushers were Mike Finney of Hopkinsville, brother of the bride, and Danny Nix, Jerry Conner of Hopkinsville, half brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Conner, chose to wear a two piece mint green dress and coat ensemble with mint green accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Andrus, mother of the groom, was attired in a royal blue knit long sleeve dress with blue accessories and her corsage was a white cymbidium orchid.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Hall of Russellville, wore a three piece navy blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Della Hall of Russellville, was ill and unable to attend the wedding.

The register at the church was kept by Miss Mary Beth Odle, Bart Washer, nephew of the groom, and Sheila James passed out rice bags after the ceremony to the wedding guests.

Later the couple left for a wedding trip to Atlanta, Ga., with the bride wearing for traveling a yellow button knit dress and coat ensemble with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrus are now at home at 101 Clark Street, Murray, where the groom is employed by the Tappan Company and the bride is employed at the Houston-McDevitt Clinic, Inc.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Ruby Conner and Bill Gibson of Hopkinsville; Mrs. Russell Simmons, Rhonda and Jeff Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyce Hall, Danny and Alan Hall, all of Russellville; Dr. and Mrs. L. A. White of Friendship, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Coy Andrus of Mayfield; Mr. and Mrs. George Trehnholm of Paris, Tenn.; L. C. Stiles of New Mexico; George Goodwin of Artesia, N. M.; George Richey and Miss Sheila Hall of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Gladys Farley and Jackie Farley of Cash, Ark.; Mrs. Ruth Morgan of Hoxie, Ark.; Mrs. Mildred Wade of Paducah.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Carnie Andrus, parents of the groom, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held at the Holiday Inn.

The bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

A centerpiece of red roses was used to adorn the tables where covers were laid for thirty-five persons.

"Budgety" Beans
Combine one-half pound ground beef, one egg (slightly beaten), one-half cup small bread cubes, one-half teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper. Shape into 12 meatballs. In skillet brown meatballs, shortening. Cover, cook over low heat 10 minutes. Pour off fat. Stir in one can (16 ounces) barbecue beans. Heat, stir now and then. Makes two to three servings.

Cheese Bites
Spread sliced white bread with butter and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Cut each slice into six pieces. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Serve with soup.

Practical Pointers Given By Institute For Purchase Of Watchdog For Home

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shopping for a four-footed burglar alarm, the typical customer seeks a dog that hasn't yet been invited—and probably never will be.

The watchdog of his dreams would function as the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde of Canineland, capable of switching into and out of two distinctly different personalities.

He would bare teeth at intruders while barking loudly. If necessary, he would continue barking while sinking choppers into hide of burglar—even while doing an undogly thing: ignoring a hunk of steak or bone tossed by burglars for a peace offering.

But that's not all. While not snarling at intruders, this hound would be gentle with children, docile in the presence of visitors and otherwise miraculously sit on his hostile tendencies.

According to a survey of dog trainers by the Pet Food Institute, no one's yet bred a dog that's a cross between the Hound of the Baskervilles and Lassie.

So if you're looking for a watchdog, consider the following practical pointers from the Institute:

—Select a dog that meets your real needs. If you're partial to large, naturally protective breeds such as a German Shepherd, Doberman Pinscher, or Akita, get one. But remember that these nearly pony sized canines need plenty of food, space, and training. If you feel a small dog who barks is protection enough, an alert, scrappy Terrier will earn his keep very well and may scare away intruders.

—Buy from a reputable kennel or trainer. Ask a veterinarian or established dog club for recommendations. If you buy from a commercial training firm, ask proprietor for references or check with the Better Business Bureau. Beware the dealer who stresses viciousness of the animal.

—Give your new dog basic obedience training. He will be happier when he knows what is expected of him, and so will you and the neighbors. Inexpensive obedience training schools are offered in many communities by dog clubs and recreation centers.

—Let your dog be a house pet. When he's encouraged to be part of the family and to sleep indoors, he'll become familiar with household routine. Then, if something is wrong, he'll be quick to let you know.

Braids Made Head Lines

PARIS (UPI): Braids, which first made a comeback at Yves Saint Laurent's showing two seasons ago, are still making headlines as a hairstyle.

The fine thin braids originally introduced by Saint Laurent still make an occasional appearance, generally threaded within a tiny chignon.

But the real trend is to big braids for evening, wrapped around the head peasant-style. Like the tiny braids, they are usually hair pieces and often Dynel or some other synthetic.

The best ones are by Alexandre at Saint Laurent and are heavier at the base of the neck, growing finer as they reach the top of the head.

Slim Jim Soup

If your husband's dined overly well at lunch, greet him tonight with a soup and salad supper. In a saucepan, combine one can (10½ ounces) condensed consommé, one soup can water and a dash of weed. Simmer a few minutes. Makes two to three servings. To go along with soup, plan a chef's salad with strips of ham and chunks of cheese.

Salad Tacos

Combine finely shredded chopped avocado and tomato, dairy sour cream and onion. Serve in prepared taco shells or over tortilla chips.

Jealous wife tries to punish

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a 34-year-old son who is married to a very pretty girl of 25. She found out that my son was seeing another girl, so she confronted him and then he stopped seeing the other girl.

My problem is the method my daughter-in-law is using to punish her husband. She has been making a big play for MY husband. He is 37, Abby, and very attractive. Naturally he loves it and even encourages her. I could never appeal to my daughter-in-law because I am sure she would never consider my feelings as she has never liked me very much altho I never have given her any reason for feeling that way. Now I am worried that all this kidding around with hugging and kissing may develop into something more serious. Please tell me how to handle this, Abby. I'm terribly upset.

CAN'T COMPETE

DEAR CAN'T: You could tell your husband to act his age and cool it a little out of respect to his son's marriage, which sounds as tho it's on fairly shaky ground right now. It may not help. But it can't hurt.

DEAR ABBY: Before any 55-year-old grandmother has all her teeth extracted for "health reasons," as she stated, she ought to get another opinion.

If more people would realize the problems associated with "false teeth," more people would run to the dentist to try to save their teeth.

A dental journal recently disclosed that approximately 5 million people in the United States of America have deposited their lower dentures in dresser drawers because they cannot wear them!

I am tired of "yanking" teeth. I'd much rather save and restore them.

Abby, remain true to your teeth, and they will never be false to you. Sincerely,

L. A. Z., D. D. S., BRONX, N. Y.

DEAR DOCTOR: I have been more than true to my teeth, and thus far they have been "true" to me.

DEAR ABBY: I noticed in your column where a teen-ager was ready to give up music lessons because he had a clarinet and then a flute stolen from his locker at school. Abby, many people carry HOMEOWNERS INSURANCE POLICIES, which cover most thefts of this kind. Our daughter's coat and clarinet were stolen from a school locker. We thought it was a complete loss until our insurance agent told us that we were completely covered. And what a happy surprise it was! Perhaps others who read your column aren't aware of what their policies cover, either. Anyway, it's worth a mention.

NOT AN INSURANCE AGENT

DEAR NOT: You have a lot of company. Many policy holders get a "happy surprise" to learn that they were covered, thinking they were not. But I would guess that there are as many policy holders who get "unhappy surprises" (not being covered, thinking they were). A good agent not only SELLS—he TELLS! So this might be a good time for you (and for me, too!) to call our friendly insurance agent and review the bidding.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WEARING OUT IN CINCY": I'm all choked up! Your letter was about as convincing as the one from the fellow with the rubber duck. I'll send you five strong men to assist you with those five "lonely" nurses who are breaking down your door nightly.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Waiting Wives Club Has Regular Meet At Williams Home

The Waiting Wives Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Williams, Doran Road, with Mrs. Debbie Williams as the hostess. A special door prize, a peek-a-boo Easter egg, was made by a friend of Mrs. Ardash Persall with Mrs. Marilyn Showman winning the prize.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were Mesdames Betty Baker, Betty Lawrence, Ardash Persall, Marilyn Showman, Jan Vance, Ann Kelly, Dodson, Brenda Estes, Patsy Oakley, Carol Ferris, Lori Lax, Cheryl Alexander, Judy Scott, and Debbie Williams.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, April 10, at 6:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Carol Ferris, 901 Sunny Lane. A supper will be served. For information regarding the club call 753-7324 or 753-3147 after five p. m.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. David Houser of Farmington Route One are the parents of a baby boy, David Todd, weighing ten pounds eight ounces, born on Wednesday, April 1, at 11:05 p. m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

The new father is employed by Parker-Dodge at Paducah. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Urey Houser of Mayfield and Mrs. Robbie Pigg of Farmington Route One. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Kirksey Route One.

Healthy Drunks

If bars offered vitamin pills as well as peanuts and pretzels more steady drinkers would be healthier. Neurological symptoms suffered by many alcoholics, observes Dr. Pierre M. Dreyfus, neurology chairman at the University of California in Davis, can be prevented or reversed by giving vitamins.

Aquarius

If you doubt this is the Age of Aquarius, take a look at your favorite jewelry counter. Astrological earrings, pendants, bracelets and other dangles and tinkles are all over, either spotlighting Aquarius or available in your own birth sign.

Is The United Nations—After 25 Years—Still The Best Hope For Peace?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of eight weekly dispatches by United Press International reporters dealing with "Great Decisions of 1970".

United Nations: After 25 years, still man's "last, best hope" for peace?

By BRUCE W. MUNN
UPI Chief U.N. Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Arsene Assouan Usher, now foreign minister of the Ivory Coast, was in the first rank of black African sages at the United Nations. After serving as president of the Security Council, he observed:

"Given a dispute between two small powers, the dispute disappears."

"Given a dispute between a small power and a major power, the small power disappears."

"Given a dispute between two major powers, the United Nations disappears."

Less cautious was President Nixon's observation in his "state of the world" message to congress on Feb. 18:

Provides Diplomatic Forum
"The United Nations provides a forum for crisis diplomacy and a means for multilateral assistance."

...the United Nations cannot by itself solve fundamental international disputes, especially among the superpowers. Thus we can as easily undermine the United Nations by asking too much of it as too little."

The fundamental lesson in the eyes of many experts is that the United Nations has demonstrated that it can end wars as long as the superpowers agree the wars should be ended.

It can be, as Secretary General Thant often has pointed out, only what its members want it to be.

Despite its disappointments, the United Nations has demonstrated, as it has grown from its infant rollout of 51 countries to an unwieldy 126 now, that it can act in crisis. It did so in Indonesia in 1947, in Kashmir in 1948, three times in the Middle East, in West New Guinea—or West Irian—in 1959-60, in Korea, in the Congo, Lebanon and Cyprus.

Shows Effective Action
Also, with major power support, it showed effective crisis action to stop war between Israel and the Arabs in 1948. In 1956, and once more in 1967.

But with the Big Four powers deeply divided in almost a year of secret negotiations, the United Nations has demonstrated a woeful inability to draw the borders of peace in the Middle East.

While the political failures of the organization take the headlines, the "other United Nations"—the one that engages 80 per cent of the budget and personnel—strides ahead with notable successes in the economic and social fields.

The U.N. Development Program (UNDP), headed by Paul G. Hoffman, a one-time giant of the American automobile industry, is an acknowledged success in aiding the developing countries. British Ambassador Gives Personal Look At the United Nations

By LORD CARADON
British Ambassador
To the United Nations
Written for UPI

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—I speak as one of the world's leading authorities on international frustration.

I have been working in and for the United Nations for nearly 10 years. No one need tell me of the delays, the limitations, the timidities, the shortcomings of the nations. I know them very well. I live amongst them all day, and often part of the night.

In the new world of parliamentary diplomacy I can claim to have listened to as many depressing platitudes and read as many dreary documents as any other living man.

And yet, from the testimony of my own experience and my own conviction, I am bold enough to say these four things:

—First, the U.N. system created in San Francisco 25 years ago when the charter was signed has stood up well to the strains of 2½ decades of dispute and conflict.

—Second, as a forum for world opinion, as a center for international diplomacy, as a machine for international development, as an instrument for peace, the U.N. organization has become not only invaluable but indispensable.

—Third, the surprising thing is not how little has been done in a quarter of a century but how much; a start has been made in international understanding and international cooperation.

—Fourth, there is nothing wrong with the United Nations except its members.

As Adlai Stevenson used to say: "Do not mock the weakness of the United Nations lest you mock yourselves."

The instrument is keen and sharp. We, the members, can use the instrument to decisive effect whenever we can agree together.

UN Can Do Only As Its Members Wish

By CHARLES W. YOST
U.S. Ambassador
To the United Nations
Written for UPI

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United Nations is not a supergovernment; it is the obedient servant of 126 member nations. It can do only what they want it to do. Have its members, in these first 25 years, been sufficiently wise masters in the things they have commanded it—or forbidden it—to do?

On the positive side, the United Nations has done much that is new and important, particularly in peace-keeping, economic and social development, decolonization, human rights and the extension of the rule of law to new realms such as outer space. It is unique neutral ground for diplomacy. The world would be incalculably worse off without it.

Yet all this falls far short of the world's need—as the daily headlines about war, arms races, poverty, population and pollution so tragically attest. Last month, President Nixon, in his "state of the world" message to Congress, called the U.N. 25th anniversary "a time to devise ways to expand" the U.N. possibilities, especially in such key areas as peace-keeping, international development and the human environment.

Time, unless we use it well, is not on our side, nor on that of our children. Whether the future is dark or bright will depend greatly on what the member nations, above all the most powerful of them, can agree to make their servant, the United Nations, do in their common interest during this fateful decade of the 1970s.

which it caters primarily.

The No. 1 purpose of the United Nations, as stated in the charter, is "to maintain international peace and security, and to that end: To take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace..."

The United Nations has mechanism to deal with such crisis. The United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China comprise a military staff committee—a sort of supreme command that has no army.

Diplomats agree that future-peace keeping operations must be organized by the Security Council where political support of the great powers—each of which has a veto—would be required for action. They are convinced that adequate and stable means of financing such situations must be found. Finally, there is a feeling that there should be a stand-by force in being, for which the Scandinavian countries already have offered troops, to go into action in the cause of peace whenever the Security Council directs.

Lacks Power To Enforce
Lacking the power to enforce, the United Nations is powerless where major states do not want it to act—in Vietnam, in Hungary in 1956, in Czechoslovakia in 1968. Insistence of U.N. action in those cases by any major power—providing the veto could have been disregarded—could have meant a major war, most diplomats believe.

U.N. diplomats, from U Thant down, are hopeful of a more cooperative future. They point to better relations existing between the Soviet Union and the West and point to the partial nuclear test ban treaty and the non-proliferation pact as evidence of an era of good feeling to come.

Diplomats are wary of crystal balls, but most here see the United Nations in the next 25 years as becoming more of an organization for economic development, a mechanism for crisis action in war and, above all, a forum unequalled in history for diplomats to gather and exchange viewpoints. They hold with John F. Kennedy, who hailed it on Jan. 20, 1961, as "The United Nations, our last, best hope in an age where the instruments of war have far outpaced the instruments of peace."

Nation's Businessmen Favor Gun Control Law For Criminals Only

A new type of gun control law—one for criminals only—is favored by most of the nation's independent business proprietors.

Apparently rejecting the argument that a severe penalty is not a deterrent to crime and arguments for criminal rehabilitation, businessmen questioned in a 50-state survey give landslide support to legislation which would make possession of a firearm during a violent crime a separate Federal offense.

The bill, introduced by Rep. John P. Saylor of Pennsylvania, provides a mandatory 1 to 10 year sentence for a first offense and an automatic 25-year sentence upon a repeat conviction. In either case, the sentence could not be suspended, probationary or served concurrently with any other sentence.

The National Federation of Independent Business, in its poll, finds 86 percent of the proprietors favor this tough measure, only 11 percent opposed and 3 percent with no opinion.

Kentucky businessmen responded with 84 percent supporting the legislation, 11 percent objecting and 5 percent undecided.

The size of the affirmative vote suggests that businessmen—often targets of burglary, robbery and other serious crime—agree with Congressman Saylor that justice has become too lenient, permitting many criminals back on the streets to resume a crime career. An FBI study shows that of 18,000 persons released from custody in 1963, 63 percent were re-arrested within five years.

Arguments that the penalties of the bill might be too inflexible and severe apparently made little impact upon the businessmen. Rather, most see the penalties as a deterrent, "the price to be paid" for violations.

Carrying a firearm (or an explosive device, which is also included in the bill) is a premeditated act which can lead to injury or death, and is a necessary element of force in the commission of some crimes.

If the legislation becomes law, an additional Federal charge would be filed in many cases of armed robbery, murder, assault and the like, which are now punishable under state laws. The bill requires the firearm violation sentence to be served in addition to any other sentence imposed for the felony act itself.

The bill was written to replace a penalty provision of the 1968 Gun Control Act, which Congressman Saylor contends was watered down during debate, and has not been a deterrent to crime. At that time, many businessmen, in volunteer comments to the Federation, argued that the law should focus on the criminal.

A Small Business Administration study indicates small and medium-size businesses suffer 71 percent of all burglary losses and 68 percent of robbery losses. Business owners appear to be "fed up" with the increasing crime problem and anxious to see tougher punishment for criminals who use firearms. State tabulation attached.

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—The U.S. District Court has tentatively set April 10 for the arraignment of Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., on charges he received $25,000 from a Maryland home improvement developer and fled to a grand jury about it.

Apollo 13 Moon Launch Tops This Week's Television Fare

4138 u vzyr Video ML-4-1 ml
Adv for weekend April 4-5

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The television week will be featured by another rocket liftoff for the moon, if the Apollo 13 takes off as scheduled on Saturday. The three networks will give the usual extensive coverage then and at various times during the ensuing days of the venture.

NBC introduces its baseball game of the week series next Saturday. And has a pollution documentary on Tuesday.

Hollywood's annual Oscar awards show is on ABC Tuesday night, preceded by a special starring singer Robert Goulet. CBS offers live coverage of third round play in the Masters golf tournament on Saturday. Details for April 5-11: SUNDAY

"The Teaching" on NBC is a one-hour religious drama dealing with a youth who puts into action ideals given him by his parents and his Jewish faith.

CBS offers "Meet the Masters," a preview of the Masters golf tournament that begins later in the week at Augusta, Ga.

NBC's Disney hour repeats "The Hound that Thought He was a Raccoon." A dog raised by a raccoon is returned to civilization and becomes a skilled hunting hound.

Actor George Hamilton and the Temptations vocal group are among those slated for Ed Sullivan's CBS show.

The ABC movie screens 1957's "The Lonely Man," starring Jack Palance and Anthony Perkins in a western about a long-absent gunfighter who returns to find his son.

MONDAY

ABC has a one-hour documentary special, "This Land is Mine," dealing with things in America that are beautiful. Actress Kim Novak is one of several prominent persons who feel committed to their land.

The CBS "Gunsmoke" reprise is "A Matter of Honor." Drunk at the scene of a crime, Louie Pheeters is wrongly charged with homicide.

"Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" on NBC repeats a show featuring Jack Benny.

The ABC movie is "An Eye for an Eye," starring Robert Lansing as a retired bounty hunter who takes to his gun again after his wife and child are murdered.

NBC repeats "Jigsaw," a mystery drama starring Bradford Dillman as a young scientist who believes he has murdered a girl.

Heves Dr. Gannon lacks confidence in him.

The Johnny Cash show of ABC offers Patti Page, Sonny James and Tony Jo White.

Jack Jones, Louis Nye, Connie Stevens and Harry Secombe are guests on the Engelbert Humperdinck show for ABC.

THURSDAY

On "Daniel Boone" on NBC, David Opatoshu is guest star as an old Indian who plots revenge for the long-ago massacre of his tribe.

The Jim Nabors hour on CBS concentrates on the talents of regular cast members Frank Sutton, Ronnie Schell and Karen Morrow.

"Ironside" on NBC has Billy Bixby as guest star. Ed Brown presents a parody of the psychopathic killer responsible for the death of Brown's fiancée.

CBS rescreens 1967's "Doctor You've Got to Be Kidding," a romantic comedy about a secretary who tries show business.

FRIDAY

ABC presents "Tales from Muppetland—Hey, Cinderella." Play opposite Jim Henson's life-sized Muppets in this updated version of the famous fairy tale.

CBS has another installment of its "Adventure" series. This one deals with underwater feats under the title, "Dive to the Unknown."

On NBC's "The Name of the Game" Tony Franciosa has the pivotal role, uncovering industrial espionage while investigating an explosion in a chemical plant.

The CBS movie is "Advance to the Rear," starring Glenn Ford, Stella Stevens and Melvyn Douglas in a comedy about a company of misfits in the old West.

SATURDAY

Coverage of the liftoff of Apollo 13 at Kennedy Space Center in Florida begins on CBS at 1 p.m. EST and at 1:30 on ABC and NBC. Tentative blastoff is set for 2:13 p.m.

NBC begins its weekly major league baseball games with the Cincinnati-San Francisco contest.

CBS offers live coverage of play on final holes of the third round of the Masters golf tournament at Augusta.

The Andy Williams musical hour on NBC repeats a show of which Jimmy Durante, Leslie Uggams and Judy Carne are guests.

Let Peace Be Everywhere.
In this world of false prophets and self-proclaimed wise men, may this symbol of the Holy Spirit light upon us. May the Prince of Peace put a quietus on political protagonists and eliminate all rivalry between Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists, Catholics and Jewish groups. Why can't the Dove of Peace bring goodwill to all men? We must learn that preparation of the soul is much more important than progress in business and things. Of course the road to peace is more difficult than the way of strife. Peace bears the mark of culture, of civilization, of deep piety and genuine religion. Then let us give the "Prince of Peace" a chance. Let us all be peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God. Attend church this week and help build a world for God.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

For Young Athletes
Any mother of teenage sons is constantly on the lookout for nourishing main dishes to feed her boys after workouts on the tennis court or outdoor track. Good foods like beef short ribs, navy beans and molasses will score with any appetite.

According to meat expert Reba Staggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, slow braising is the best method of cooking beef short ribs. The high quality protein and hearty flavor of beef coupled with beans provide a nutritious and delicious climax for a energetic day.

3 pounds beef short ribs
1 pound dried navy beans
5 cups water
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 can (29 ounces) tomatoes
1 tablespoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup molasses

Add water to beans, bring to boil and boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat and soak 1 hour. Drain, reserving $\frac{1}{2}$ cup liquid. Combine beans, mustard, onion, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Mix well. Cover tightly and cook slowly on all sides in own fat over low heat in covered frying-pan for 1 hour. Pour off drippings. Add molasses to beans and mix well. Add to short ribs. Cover tightly, and continue cooking $\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours or until meat is tender and beans are done. 6 servings.

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—The University of Colorado will hold its third annual Trivia Bowl beginning next Monday to learn just how much trivial information its students possess.

Students taking part will be tested in 18 categories, including pop culture, pop literature, pop music, sports "or any information not considered needed for the content, philosophy or ideology of otherwise essential information," a spokesman said.

There are more than 200 million major appliances in use in American homes.

Americans eat almost 67 pounds of frozen foods a year, per capita.

We lend money to farmers and ranchers. Nobody else. And the people who borrow buy stock in PCA. That way, they tell us what to do. They decide who is really going to run our operation.

It's a great arrangement. We end up being owned and operated by the people who need — and use — our service. So we know all about their special money needs. Supplies, equipment, maintenance, extra help, medical bills, educational expenses — and we know how to tailor repayment programs to their production and income.

Talk over your money needs — any season of the year — with a seasoned money pro: the man at PCA.

TERMITES!!
CAN YOUR HOME ESCAPE??
Only An Expert
Can Tell You For Sure

TERMITES WORK SILENTLY,
SECRETLY AND DESTRUCTIVELY

Almost every home in the nation is threatened with invasion, or has already been invaded by termites. They may reveal their presence through visible destruction but more often their work goes unseen. You could be totally unaware of the fact that thousands of termites had invaded and were feeding in the under-structure of your home... traveling through the foundation... and infesting the ground under your expensive landscaping.

Regional Science Fair Is Saturday At Murray State

Elementary, junior high and high school students from about 12 schools in the Jackson Purchase are expected to participate in the fifth annual West Kentucky Regional Science Fair at Murray State University Saturday.

Sponsored by the science division of the First District Education Association in cooperation with the physics and chemistry departments at Murray State, the fair will include competition in five science categories—earth science, biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics.

Dr. William F. Smith, assistant professor of physics at Murray State and fair coordinator, said projects will be judged in the morning and exhibited in the afternoon in the ballroom of the Waterfield Student Union Building.

A grand prize winner will be presented a $50 U. S. saving bond. Both individual and group projects at all three levels of competition are eligible for the grand prize competition.

Gold, silver and bronze-coated medals will be awarded for first, second and third place at each level of individual and group competition in each science category.

Each participating student will also receive a certificate of participation, according to Smith.

He called the fair "a wonderful opportunity for science students to be exposed to other students and to university personnel."

He emphasized that the public is invited to see the exhibits.

SEOUL — Junko Kubota, a stewardess among 103 persons held for 79 hours aboard a pirated Japanese jetliner, describes the ordeal:

"It was just like in hell. The hijackers constantly swung their Samurai swords around. We were haunted by hunger and terror."

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, commenting on the possibility that the Senate will defeat his second nominee for the Supreme Court seat vacated by Abe Fortas:

"What is at stake is the preservation of the traditional constitutional relationships of the president and the Congress."

KINGSTON, Ont. — Dr. J. Delahaye, after a mother snatched a three-year-old girl from him to prevent a blood transfusion, explains that parents cannot be forced to permit medical treatment of their children:

"It really involves the question of whether a parent has the right to interfere with his or her child having a normal life. As yet there is no specific legal sanction for insuring that a child gets the care it needs."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — District Judge Edward M. Viola, on being informed that a girl he sentenced to six months in jail for burning a U. S. flag had not been suspended from school for the offense:

"I don't think she has the right to go to any school. But she would be a good candidate for college. If she ever gets there, she would probably be a Viet Cong leader."

HELSINKI (UPI) — Every fifth Finn is licensed to own a television set, according to the state broadcasting company. With the country's population just under 5 million, the number of television licenses issued has passed 1 million. The number of radio licenses was 1,738,000 at the last report.

The negotiators were to have their proposals ready to submit to Congress by next Friday.

The agreement, announced by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount and AFL-CIO President George Meany at AFL-CIO headquarters, may have killed Nixon's proposal for a postal corporation to replace the Post Office Department.

The postal unions generally have opposed a postal corporation, and Meany said any postal reorganization plan submitted to Congress would first be subject to union approval.
